(54) Title: METHOD OF PREPARING ORGANIC LUMINESCENT MATERIALS STABILIZED BY HEAT TREATMENT AND MATERIALS OBTAINED THEREFROM

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to methods of preparing and stabilizing organic luminescent materials by means of heat treatment (annealing) in a suitable atmosphere. The treatment performed on films of such materials deposited on an inert support causes an immediate increase of the luminescence and a stabilization of the emission in ambient atmosphere for at least 500 hours.

* Special categories of cited documents :

- A document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance
- E earlier document but published on or after the international filing date
- L document which may throw doubts on priority claim(s) or which is cited to establish the publication date of another citation or other special reason (as specified)
- O document referring to an oral disclosure, use, exhibition or other means
- P document published prior to the international filing date but later than the priority date claimed

- T later document published after the international filing date or priority date and not in conflict with the application but cited to understand the principle or theory underlying the invention
- X document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone
- Y document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art.
- * & * document member of the same patent family
